THE BORDEN DEFENSE

Riddles the Story of the Sisters' Quarrel in Jail.

Confusion of People About the House After the Murders.

Testimony of a Man Who Says He Locked the Cellar Door.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 16.-There was less of a crowd at the Court-House this morning at the resumption of the Borden trial than there has been at any time since the beginning of the trial, although the air is delightfully cool inside and fans have been retired. Among the early visitors was Miss Emma Borden, who is, it is understood, to be called by the defense although she was down as a Government witness. Miss Lizzie told ex-Gov. Robinson as he greeted her this morning that she had passed a very restful night, and the intimation came with a cheering smile that she would feel better by and by.

The learned lawyers looked a little bit excited, but Judge Brown called upon them to address the Court. He then settled the argument by saying he would look at the testimony and decide whether he would give the steamship Company's lawyers a chance to cross-examine the Pittsburg witness.

Lawyer Benedict then submitted additional depositions corroborative of the testimony of his previous witnesses.

VERAGUA MAKING CALLS.

The Ducal Farty Goes to Yonkers This Bfternoon.

The Duke de Veragua is spending much of his time during the last days of his sojourn in the country in calling upon people who paid their respects to him on the occasion of his first visir to the city.

This morning the Duke, the Duchess and their daughter. Doba Maria, made an informal call on Archbishop Corrigan at the Arculepiscopal residence in Firty-second street, and remained for more than an hour.

At 2 o clock, the party leaves on a special car attached to a New York Central train, bound for Friar Cliff, near Yonkers, where they visited the stock farm of Walter W. Law, whose guests they will be for the remainder of the day.

They will dine at the home of Mr. Law, at Hill Creat, and return to the city at 10 o'clock to-night.

The trip to Albany will probably be made neat Monday. The city council at Albany wifed the Duke the freedom of the city, and the Duke is so sensible of the honor conterred on him that when some question was raised as to whether he would have time to go to the capital of the State he enthusiastically exclaimed:

Richter Radicals' Fallure to Draw a Surprise of the Election.

BERLIN, June 16 .- The election re turns from the agricultural districts and small cities come in slowly. In At noon to-day the Government candidates had apparently lost slightly in the constituencies which chose their deputies by yesterday's ballot. On the other hand, in the scond ballots, which now seem inevitable in some 100 or 125 districts the Government has exceptional opportunities to win many seats. This is especially applicable to the seats contested by the Radical Unionists, the Army bill, but have supported it on the stump, and, if re-elected, will vote for it in somewhat modified form. This morning the National Liberals, who were expected to return to Parlia ment with their delegation reduced from forty to about thirty, contended that they would have at least thirty-eight members after the second ballots. The Richter Radicals will have hardly more. So far their failure to draw opposition votes has been the most surprising feature of the election.

The Social Democrats boast that they will have sixty seats after the re-ballots. This is about the number con ceded to them before the elections. The Conservatives and Free Conservatives are likely to hold their own. The num-ber of the Lieber Clericals in the next Reichstag, although in doubt, is ex-
